OUR CORE VALUES

01

Accountability

We take pride in representing our client's to the highest degree possible and hold ourselves accountable for every move made within the transaction. Especially in today's environment with regards to keeping our client's safe from such issues as Covid-19, being accountable and trusted by our clients and our real estate associates is of great importance when it comes to transparency, safety and transacting business.

02

Balance

The home buying and selling process could be considered one of the most stressful situations a person can experience. We take the 'stress' aspect away from your mindset during the sales process by creating a balanced approach to the transaction with a time-line in place, potential unknowns in the transactions to be accounted for and the sales process to be a smooth transition to the next chapter in your life.

03

Community

Sonoma County has been home to members of the Styles Family for over 5 generations and with the Ehrlicher Family deeply involved in the community, it appears that the Ehrlicher Styles family's will proudly be around for decades to come, which is why it's important for Lindsey and Ryan to remain involved in the community on all aspects, from business related to volunteering. We wear our hearts proudly on our sleeves and continue to be an energetic husband-wife power couple, eager to raise our two children here in Sonoma County.
